- Earthquakes would destroy the houses of the rich and the poor
- Eclipse-God would cover the land with darkness
- Famine of the word of God-since Israelites had rejected God's word, God would withdraw from them. There would be divine silence. Many would wander from Dead Sea to Mediterranean Sea, from sanctuary in search of God's word but they would not find it
- Exile-Those who would survive the Assyrian's attack would be pursued and killed while those who would be exiled in Assyria, for example the nagging women of Samaria, would be taken away forcefully and painfully
- Priest Amaziah who was against Amos's prophecy about Israel would die in a pagan land, his wife would a harlot and his children would die of sword.
- Their land would be occupied by a foreign nation
- Their land would be surrounded by a foreign nation (1X6=6mks)

C Give the relevance of Old Testament prophets to Christians today (6mks)

- Christians should realize that the call to Christianity has a prophetic role. Therefore, they should be messengers to God
- As Christians one should use the gift of prophecy for the glory of God and for the common good of the people such as when Moses performed miracles to show God's power and saved Israelites
- As God's spokespeople, Christians should always stand for the truth
- Once appointed as God's prophet one should pass the message without fear or favour
- God's spokespeople should always condemn the social, political and economic evils in their society
- Christians are called upon to live holy as God messengers
- Christians should pray to God to give them guidance, wisdom and inspiration so as to face challenges in their lives
